AUTHENTIC SINGAPORE HENGHUA CUISINE

A hustle and bustle fills the air in the busy early trading streets of Singapore. Shouts of wares in various dialects can be heard as tired runners pull up rickety rickshaws to the dusty kerb. Nearby, sounds of metal clanging to wok are accompanied by delicious, mouth-watering smells, a reassuring comfort that is looked forward to after a hard day's work.

The year is 1933 and Ming Chung is at the heart of it all.
